STAGE 1. READING

1. Alcohol and Young People

You can be stopped, fined or arrested by police if you're under 18 and drinking alcohol in public.

If you're under 18, it's against the law:

- for someone to sell you alcohol
- to buy or try to buy alcohol
- for an adult to buy or try to buy alcohol for you
- to drink alcohol in licensed premises (eg a pub or restaurant)

However, if you're 16 or 17 and accompanied by an adult, you can drink (but not buy) beer, wine or cider with a meal.

If you're 16 or under, you may be able to go to a pub (or premises primarily used to sell alcohol) if you're accompanied by an adult. However, this isn't always the case. It can also depend on the specific conditions for that premises.

It's illegal to give alcohol to children under 5.

Working in a restaurant or bar under 18

You can serve alcohol in a restaurant if you're 16 or 17 as long as the alcohol is drunk with a meal. You can also serve alcohol in a bar, but the licence holder or bar manager needs to approve the sale.

You may be restricted to selling alcohol in sealed containers (eg cans or bottles) in some areas.

<https://www.gov.uk/alcohol-young-people-law>

Task:

Answer the questions according to the text.

You and your friend are both 17 and you go to a pizzeria. Can you have a glass of wine to the pizza?

Can a 17-years old person go alone to a pub?

Can a 17-years old person sell and serve alcohol in a nightclub?

Can you sell beer in bottles everywhere in the UK if you're under 18?

What are the rules of buying and selling alcohol in your country?

2. A Drink at the Bar

After a stressful day, Mr. Jackson relaxes at the bar. The bartender, Mark, responds to a few complaints while he serves Mr. Jackson his favorite cocktail.

Read the following passage and answer the questions.

Mr. Jackson: Bartender, could I have a drink? What's taking so long?!

Bartender: Excuse me, sir. Yes, what can I get you?

Mr. Jackson: I'd like a whiskey sour.

Bartender: Certainly sir, I'll get that straight away.

Mr. Jackson: What a day! My feet are aching! Where's an ashtray?!

Bartender: Here you go sir. Did you have a busy day?

Mr. Jackson: Yes, I had to walk all over town to get to meetings. I'm exhausted.

Bartender: I'm sorry to hear that, sir. Here's your drink. That should help.

Mr. Jackson: (takes a long sip) That's what I needed. Much better. Do you have any snacks?

Bartender: Certainly, here are some peanuts and some savory crackers, and a napkin.

Mr. Jackson: Could I have a stir stick?

Bartender: Coming up... Here you are.

Mr. Jackson: Thanks. You know, I'm sorry to say this, but these snacks are awful.

Bartender: I'm terribly sorry about that, sir. What seems to be the matter?

Mr. Jackson: The peanuts are stale!

Bartender: I apologize sir, I'll open a fresh can immediately.

Mr. Jackson: Thanks. Sorry to be in such a bad mood.

Bartender: That's quite alright. Can I get you another drink? This one's on the house.

Mr. Jackson: That's kind of you. Yes, I'll have another whiskey sour.

Bartender: Right away, sir. Do you have any preferences on the whiskey?

Mr. Jackson: Hmm, what's that bottle over there?

Bartender: That's Jack Daniel's - aged 12 years.

Mr. Jackson: That sounds good. I'd like to smoke...

Bartender: Just a moment, here's an ashtray.

Mr. Jackson: Thanks. So how long have you worked at this bar?

Bartender: It's been about three years now. I love this job...
