

07/06/2013

Yesterday is an unreal place

It lives only in a mysterious way deep and hidden in my mind

And it is full of green and trees

And birds playing in the air

And waters running ~~to here~~ to the nowhere

I saw children playing in the sand

And pretty girls with gold in their hair

And a tomorrow in their eyes

I saw the blue of the sky

And the red, like blood, of the sunset, and I felt happy

Yesterday, yes

I remember I saw all that once before, when I was a baby

In my homeland, so distant now in space and time

I've been for a while in that corner of my mind, called childhood

A time in which no fear, no doubts, no pains

Should have hurted the hope and the joy of living

Yesterday, yes

And all that is nature and environment

And now is a part of me

And I know its name

Thank you LATUA!

But now we must carry on!!

Paulo Maria Junior
Breggi